Costumed Picnic

The largest crowd could be found under the shade of a huge tree listening to music from the gazebo as hundreds turned out for the annual Montgomery County Heritage Day Saturday in Christiansburg.

Activities during the day included music, Civil War re-enactors, antique tools and engines, members of the Smithfield Junior Guild and United Daughters of the Confederacy also strolled the grounds chatting with visitors throughout the day.

One of the most popular activities of the day included the horse and buggy rides, in which people lined up to take a short trip back in time.

"That was fun," said one young girl after climbing out of the buggy.

The Montgomery Museum, the Lewis Miller Regional Art Center and Montgomery County Parks and Recreation organized Heritage Day.
